

To highlight some facts about bakeries Let's create a persona for a customer who loves bakery products.

Bakery Customer

Name: Mohan Kumar

Age: 30

Education: Diploma in project management

Current Job: Supervisor in Fieraa

Location: Scarborough

Mohan Kumar is a supervisor who has been working in this same industry for the past six years. He loves to maintain hygiene in the workplace. He is very passionate towards his work. He produces fresh and good quality bakery products. He always uses organic ingredients in his mixing department where the dough is made. From his childhood he loved to eat bakery items so whenever any occasion like marriage or any ritual function came at that time he distributed his bakery products to their friend, family and relatives.

He prefers salty and sweet products in their warehouse. Whenever I visit the warehouse where he works the surrounding atmosphere is very quiet. I also ask several questions to workers related to the products. He tries unique products in his departments and the public also loves that product when they try. Whenever their shifts get over at that time workers take breads to their home because of good taste.

Well, there are various goals. One of the main goals is to construct a new warehouse in North York due to the public demand. Also took a good initiative to support local bakery shops and sell products at a reasonable price. he loves our product. He has a good knowledge of this industry and he is also one of the best customers to date. he always connects to different bakers for more information related to products and more.

There were several challenges faced in the starting. Because in his warehouse due to a shortage of workers production was less as compared to the present time. but in his review, he told us that now machinery and workers have increased. By seeing our company, he learned many things in his life the importance of time and the workplace importance.

Many services our been provided from our websites. For example various bakery products, lessons on different recipes, selling useful ingredients, and famous for home deliveries of bagels and more. You can also order any bakery products from our website. we have also uploaded tutorials on the production which will help you.